Tiffany Yang (Psychology; 3.82 GPA). “I am a bookworm,” says Tiffany, “because books allow me to travel, have new adventures, make amazing friends or create wicked enemies. But the most magical thing about reading is that it reveals the wonders of the human condition.” Channeling this passion, she hopes to become a public school teacher or counselor. This past summer she acted as host for potential college students, in order to familiarize them with UC San Diego
