

BEAUTY AND BIODIVERSITY: HOW PHOTOGRAPHY AND SCIENCE ARE ADVANCING THE CAUSE OF OCEAN HEALTH

Octavio Aburto, Assistant Professor, Division of Marine Biology Research, Scripps Institute of Oceanography; Professional Photographer Associate, International League of Conservation Photographers

Dr. Aburto will share his award-winning underwater photography as he describes his research on marine and coastal ecosystems, demonstrating that maintaining the health of these ecosystems has economic as well as scientific benefits.