

Aaron Louie 2011-2012 Scholar:

March, 2013: I am applying to the competitive Post baccalaureate Intramural Research Training Program to spend a year at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, MD. This will give me more training at a national laboratory, and allow me to gauge the East Coast in preparation for medical school interviews. I am applying to Medical Scientist Training Programs and I have my eyes on top science centers in the U.S.
